The official newsletter of the Church of the Epiphany

Welcoming all, we are building a dedicated Christian community that seeks to know God and to serve others.

We'll Never Walk Alone

The Reverend Dr. Barrie Bates

Is wealthy Christian a contradiction in terms, or merely an oxymoron or a paradox?

An oxymoron is a figure of speech that combines normally contradicting terms. For example, consider describing someone as pretty ugly or eating vegetables that are fresh frozen. Is wealthy Christian like that?

And the retronym Liturgical Christian: There was no other kind until the sixteenth century, when the Reformed tradition was born. While that other kind experiences occasional swings in popularity, it was not how Jesus, the disciples, or the early church practiced Christianity. Hmmm.

A retronym is a new name for an object or concept to differentiate the original form or version of it from a more recent form or version. There was no such thing as a pocket watch, for instance, until the advent of the wrist watch; before that, a pocket watch was simply a watch. Or an acoustic guitar before the advent of the electric one. Or a dumb phone until there was a smart one.

So, let's talk more about paradox.

A paradox is a statement that is seemingly contradictory or opposed to common sense and yet is perhaps true. It comes from the Latin paradoxum, which in turn comes from the Greek paradoxon, from neuter of paradoxos contrary to expectation, from para- + dokein to think, seem. So, in this sense, paradox means "to think something is contrary to expectation."

Now, this is getting complicated, eh? Because there's another explanation of paradox. First, there's the prefix para-, as in paraprofessional or paralegal. It means "alongside of." And that Greek dokein – it can mean "to think," sure. But it can also mean "believe," as in orthodoxy, accepted belief. And it can also mean "praise," or "glory" as in doxology. So we can imagine a paradox as something that allows us to stand "alongside of belief," or, better yet, "alongside of glory."

Now, this convoluted lexicographic and logographic musing has a point (I hope). We live in a world full of seeming contradictions. We've had presidents who don't act at all presidential. And we have homeless and hungry people in this, the world's wealthiest nation ever. Those things are actual contradictions, real ones. Things we can hope to change, things we can pray about, things we can work to remediate.

But that the omnipotent God who created the universe humbled himself unto death, even death on a cross? That is a true paradox, a place where we come alongside of glory. Ephrem the Syrian, a prolific writer who lived in the fourth century, referred to the infant Jesus as "a babe more ancient than his bearer" – another authentic paradox. Or how about confusing a love for power for the ultimate force of the universe, the power of love?

And this is the ultimate paradox of the Christian life: we proclaim an everlasting life of joy and justice in the kingdom of God, yet very often we sustain a day-to-day existence full of intense pain, profound disappointment, and enormous burdens to bear. Yet this life is a place of paradox, where, once again, we stand alongside of glory. And it's a scary place, this mortal existence.

As I said in a sermon some weeks back, our fears are met by faith. Faith will help us ascertain whether our fears are grounded or baseless. But faith will also help us encounter, face up to, confront, and ultimately live through our fears. And faith will help us accept – and even revel in – the seeming contradictions that are divine paradoxes.

To demonstrate this, think of the song, "You'll never walk alone" from the musical Carousel. This song has taken on cult-like following in, of all places, England. Starting in the 1960s with the Liverpool Football Club (that's soccer to us), the song is sung by a chorus of fans just before a match begins. "When you walk through a storm, hold your head up high, and don't be afraid of the dark."

It's a strong show-ender, and it speaks of faith without ever using the word. "Walk on, through the wind. Walk on, through the rain, though your dreams be tossed and blown."

It says, in essence, have faith, live in hope, expect a better outcome in the time to come – but face your fear head on, in the here and now. Live into the paradox that is this human life.

"Walk on, walk on, with hope in your heart, and you'll never walk alone."

Music Notes for July-August

Larry J. Long, Organist & Choirmaster

I'm sorry to report that our soprano section leader of the past two years, Joy Tamayo, will not be returning this fall. Some of you may know she is a Philippino immigrant to the U.S., and was here working on a visa. Her father became the seriously ill this summer, so she has returned to the Philippines to be with her family. She expects that her visa renewal process will take a long time, however. We offer our prayers on behalf of her father, and hope to see her back in New York once her visa is renewed.

Amanda Keil, who has sung with Epiphany Choir many times as an alto extra and substitute, has determined that she is actually a soprano and is available to sing with us regularly as soprano section leader beginning this September. I am very happy she will be joining us. Some of you may recall that she sang with Epiphany Choir on Sunday, June 4, just before the end of the choir season. That was her debut performance as a soprano!

I am busy planning music for Epiphany's 2017-2018 program year for Cherub Choir, Children's Choir and Epiphany Choir, as well as music for this summer's Vacation Bible School August 21-25. I enjoy putting together the list of hymns, psalm settings, anthems, and instrumental music for each Sunday of the year. I try to balance various styles of music so we cover as much as we can, as well as introduce enough new music to inspire and challenge both the congregation and our three choirs.

I will be attending the Association of Lutheran Church Musicians biennial conference in Minneapolis, MN, July 10-13, which is observing the 500th anniversary of the Reformation. The Reformation began in 1517 when Martin Luther posted his "Disputation on the Power and Efficacy of Indulgences," also known as "The 95 Theses" on the door of the Wittenberg Castle Church in Germany. This led ultimately to the formation of the Lutheran Church as well as the Church of England, out of which the U.S. Episcopal Church came.

Sing in Summer Choir

Summer Choir is our "anyone-can-sing" choir. Show up at 9:45 to rehearse the psalm and an easy anthem, and then sing at the 10:30am service. You've never sung in a choir? Now is your chance! Come and give it a try.

The remaining Sundays that Summer Choir is scheduled to sing are July 16, August 6 and 27.

Plan now to come and join in singing inspiring music to enrich our worship at Epiphany.

Why Singing is Good for Your Health

posted on-line by Dr. Ben Kim

Looking for a fun way to get and stay healthy?

Try singing on a regular basis.

But not any old singing will do. The kind of singing that will provide you with significant health benefits has to come from deep inside your chest, even from your abdomen.

If you've ever been in a choir, you've probably been told that the proper way to sing is from your belly.

The idea is to use your diaphragm – the large muscle that separates your chest and abdominal cavities – to push air out through your vocal cords.

Using your diaphragm to sing is a good way to promote a healthy lymphatic system, which in turn promotes a healthy immune system.

If you want to start singing for health and have some fun with it, I highly recommend that you learn how to sing in harmony with another person or group of people. Singing in harmony with others is easily one of my favorite things to do.

Your immune system will thank you for it.

Thank you!

from Deacon Horace Whyte

I would like to thank everyone who sent cards and letters and emails while I was recuperating from my knee surgery. I am very grateful and I am humbled by your acts of kindness!

Sing in a Choir at Epiphany

Thursday Rehearsals begin in the Fall on September 14

4:00-4:30pm Cherub Choir K through Grade 2

4:45-5:30pm Children's Choir Grade 3 and above

6:45-8:15pm Epiphany Choir High School and Adults

Volunteers welcome No auditions

Contact Larry Long, Organist & Choirmaster, at long@EpiphanyNYC.org for more information.

Welcome to the Rev. Edward Johnston Sabbatical Priest July 2 through 16

We welcome the Reverend Edward Johnston as sabbatical priest for the final three weeks of our rector's sabbatical. He will be celebrant for services each Sunday, July 2 through July 16.

Familiar to many of us, he has supplied in the past at Epiphany, and he and his wife Sally attend services at Epiphany when they can.

He is Rector Emeritus at Christ's Church in Rye, New York.

Volunteers Needed for Circles of Support Prison Ministry submitted by Deacon Anne Auchincloss and Carron Donohue

"They will know us by our love for one another." John 13:35

Circles of Support (COS) has invited Epiphany to host a new initiative – a four-week public speaking and leadership training program for the loved ones of people who are currently or formerly incarcerated. A graduation ceremony will be held in the fifth week. It is not necessary to sign up for all four sessions, but it is best to sign up for two in order to establish trust and continuity.

We need five volunteers each week to meet the family members, listen to their stories and provide feedback so that at the end of the four weeks, they will have polished a ten-minute speech they can take "on the road".

Once the training program is completed, participants will speak at schools, community groups, churches and other venues where their stories will have impact and go a long way in crime prevention. This training program will empower family members, raise their self-esteem, and help raise awareness throughout the city, especially in communities where young people are at risk of committing crimes, on how the effects of incarceration go beyond the individual.

When • Saturdays, 12:00noon-3:00pm (lunch included)
July 15, 22, 29, August 5
August 12 Graduation ceremony

Where • The Church of Epiphany sanctuary

Epiphany's leadership in a program that has proven successful in lowering crime and recidivism rates helps us fulfill our mission as Christians. Through this program we also strengthen our connection to the faith and legal communities, which are continuously expanding efforts to bring social justice where it is sorely needed.

Parish Barbeque

Sunday • July 2 • after the 10:30am Service

Plan to stay after the 10:30am service on Sunday, July 2 for a parish barbeque in the Mullins Garden.

Grillers are needed! If you can help grill food for any of our summer barbecues, please contact Deborah Wilburn (dajwilburn@yahoo.com) and let her know. Barbecues will also be held on August 13 and September 3. Two grillers at each barbeque would be ideal.

Ice Cream Sundays!

July 9, 16, 23, and 30

Ice cream will be served in the Mullins Garden following the 10:30am service. Plan to stay and enjoy at coffee hour!

The office is closed Tuesday,
July 4 for Independence Day

Summer is here ... and Vacation Bible School is Coming Soon! Monday-Friday • August 21-25 • 9:30am-12:30pm

Children ages 3-10 are invited to join VBS 2017 August 21-25, with the theme of Hero Central!

The kids will go on awesome adventures alongside some of their favorite Bible heroes and discover the qualities that make us truly heroic in God. Hero Central uses epic music, spectacular science, crafty crafts, heroic recreation, and fantastic Bible stories to help kids (and leaders) discover their strength in God!

Download a registration form at EpiphanyNYC.org. Click on Mission and Outreach.

Please contact Pounch Lape at lape@EpiphanyNYC.org if you are interested in having your child attend, and Heather Schaefer at heather.fain@hbgusa.com if you are interested in volunteering during the week.

Cost is $75 per child for great fun and spiritual education from 9:30am-12:30pm. Snacks will be provided each day.

Summer Movie Series

Come and enjoy a movie with new or familiar Epiphany friends! Movies begin at 6:30pm in the Garden Room.

Wednesday, July 12 • Fences • 2 hours, 19 min.

Troy Maxson (Denzel Washington) makes his living as a sanitation worker in 1950s Pittsburgh. Maxson once dreamed of becoming a professional baseball player, but was deemed too old when the major leagues began admitting black athletes. Bitter over his missed opportunity, Troy creates further tension in his family when he squashes his son's (Jovan Adepo) chance to meet a college football recruiter.

Director Denzel Washington

Stars Denzel Washington, Viola Davis

Wednesday, July 26 • Hidden Figures • 2 hrs., 7 min.

Three brilliant African-American women at NASA – Katherine Johnson (Taraji P. Henson), Dorothy Vaughan (Octavia Spencer) and Mary Jackson (Janelle Monáe) – serve as the brains behind one of the greatest operations in history: the launch of astronaut John Glenn (Glen Powell) into orbit, a stunning achievement that restored the nation's confidence, turned around the Space Race and galvanized the world.

Director Theodore Melfi

Stars Taraji P. Henson, Octavia Spencer, Janelle Monáe

Tuesday, August 15 • Jackie • 1 hour, 39 min.

After her husband's assassination, Jackie Kennedy's (Natalie Portman) world is completely shattered. Traumatized and reeling with grief, over the course of the next week she must confront the unimaginable: consoling their two young children, vacating the home she painstakingly restored, and planning her husband's funeral. Jackie quickly realizes that the next seven days will determine how history will define her husband's legacy - and how she herself will be remembered.

Sign up for Altar Flowers and Hospitality

Sign-up sheets are posted at the back of the church for providing altar flowers or hosting hospitality after worship. Sign up now to mark a birthday, anniversary, or to honor a loved one.

It's a message so unmistakably spiritual that the English now sometimes sing this song in church, as a hymn. "Walk on, walk on, with hope in your heart, and you'll never walk alone."

With faith, we can have the strength to confront our fears, to discover which are false and which we must walk ahead and face head-on. And with faith, we can accept the seeming contradictions in this life, the many spiritual paradoxes that allow us to walk alongside of glory.

For me, this time with you all at Epiphany has been something of a paradox – for now I am leaving the people I have come to love. We had some fun together, we shared in the gifts of God, and we had more than a few glimpses of the beauty of holiness.

But now the time has come for us to part ways. Perhaps we can take comfort in the seeming contradiction that the bond between us will be strengthened by our separation. Our dreams may be tossed and blown, but we liturgical Christians, who live amidst the communion of saints: we will never walk alone.

September Manifest Deadline

Please submit articles to Larry Long by Tuesday, August 29 for inclusion in the next Manifest. Send articles via email to long@EpiphanyNYC.org or place a hard copy in his mailbox.

For Children on Sundays

Childcare Available • 9:30am-12:00pm

Sunday School • ages 8-12 • 10:00am-10:30am
ages 3-7 • 10:30am-11:00am

The younger children join the worship service at the Peace. Epiphany employs the "Living the Good News" curriculum, which teaches a Bible story from the same lectionary that the adults are hearing during the service. Marilyn Castillo is our Sunday School Director.

Sunday Acolyte Training • 10:00am

For young people ages 8 and older. Acolytes carry torches (the tall processional candles) or a processional cross, and assist in leading the service in other ways. Call the church office to sign up for training.

June 17 through 23, Epiphany was host to Rainbow Fashion Week in our sanctuary. Here are a few photos to give you an idea of the exciting fashions for men, women and children that were presented.

Contacts during the Rector's Sabbatical through July 21, 2017

The Wardens: Chris Abelt and Kathryn Dunham are officially "in charge" of all things at Epiphany. They will be assisted by the Deacons, Anne Auchincloss and Horace Whyte, in providing pastoral care (ably assisted by our Pastoral Visitors). If you are in the hospital, or in some sort of need, contact them first.

The Staff: In addition to their ordinary responsibilities, Laura Noggle will be handling most day to day administrative issues; and Larry Long will be continuing with Epiphany's weekly email communications.

The Supply Clergy: The Rev. Dr. Barrie Bates (April-June) and the Rev. Ed Johnston (July) will be leading Sunday services. They are not, in general, going to be in the office or working at Epiphany during the week.

A whole host of Vestry and parish lay leaders are taking on additional responsibilities. If you have a question – call the office and they will refer you to the appropriate person.
